This software allows you to block any Website when you start the Internet Explorer. More Information: Advantages of Websites Blocking Websites Blocking improves security by blocking dangerous websites for the child. Blocking malicious and dangerous websites will not only prevent computer infections from viruses, spyware, and malware, but also prevent children from accessing harmful or malicious websites by accident. Even if your child has already discovered the Internet, blocking websites will prevent him or her from accidentally accessing dangerous websites, thus preventing them from becoming accustomed to visiting certain sites. Websites Blocking also allows users to protect themselves from accidentally visiting dangerous websites. Users may prefer to block particular sites in order to protect their personal information. Certain sites such as Facebook may collect certain information about the users that can be used to profile them. By blocking such sites, users will be protected from accidental posting of personal information. A different form of Websites Blocking allows users to quickly and easily block any website they do not want to

Download full software version File history: 2.0 - 2008-09-24 : First release File History 3.0 by Richard File History allows you to have a history of your most recently created files. You can also create and save searches of your files to continue to access them in the future. You can create backups of your files so you can easily recover them if your hard disk crashes or is accidentally damaged. You can also optionally restore files from your backups, if you want to make sure you have the most recent version of a file. With File History, you don't have to worry if you lose a file, you can always find it again in File History. How does it work? File History is fully integrated with Windows Explorer. When you save a file in File History, it automatically creates a new entry in the file history folder. You can also browse the contents of the file history folder in Windows Explorer. You can use the File History options to control the automatic backup and restore options. You can also make any folder or file into a backup folder so you can back up all of your files at once. What is new in version 3.0: This is the most significant upgrade to File History since its inception in 2005. File History 3.0 features: * New UI and functions * Fully integrated with Windows Explorer * File History, File Restore and File Rollback are fully integrated * Supports self-extracting EXE, PDF, ZIP, RAR, ISO files * Windows Vista and Windows 7 support * Multi-user and Local Group support * Can create automatic backups of all user and system files and folder structures. * Can create automatic backups of programs and any data files for those programs * Can set restore point location and restore date * Can open or import compressed files * Can automatically restore files to a Windows session * Can optionally have restore point use the last known settings of the Windows system * Can optionally restore specific files or folders. * Can use a single restore point to restore multiple files or multiple restore points
