The list contains both the local capitals of countries included in the Central European group and the capitals of cities outside that grouping that have sub-capitals in one or more countries in the region. See also List of countries by population List of European capitals ranked by population External links References Category:Lists of capitals Capitals * Central European Capitals Ranked by PopulationInfluence of osmotic and nonosmotic factors on renal tubular reabsorption of albumin. Using antibodies as specific markers for different regions of the nephron, albumin was localized by immunofluorescence techniques in rats that were untreated or were made dehydrated or overloaded with mannitol. Albumin was localized in the thick ascending limb of Henle's loop in both controls and dehydrated rats. After an overload load with mannitol, albumin staining was seen in the proximal convolutions of the distal tubules. Mannitol caused a sevenfold increase in the plasma osmolality and a significant increase in the urinary flow rate. There were no effects on albumin tubular reabsorption in dehydrated or overloaded animals.Q: When did the King of England (or another person) first say "Abbato te" to any of the Apostles? When and where did the King of England say "Abbato te" to any of the Apostles in the New Testament? A: No time of the name is given, since the Apostles were constantly with Jesus, and the only named king of that time was Herod. However, a paraphrase of the King's words at the Crucifixion is given in Luke 23:42-43: Then Jesus said to him, "Truly, I say to you, today you will be with me in paradise." This is a very early translation of the Greek, and has been
