When I try to install autocad Lt 2011 from disk, I get an error that this version will not work on my new computer. This is a 32-bit version of Windows. I tried to update my Windows version but I have no problems with the installation. I have made several operating system updates but the problem remains the same. I checked that I have a new system and I tried to reinstall but I have the same problem. I had the latest autocad Lt 2014 on my computer and installed the same autocad Lt 2011 and it worked fine, but I don't want to install the LT 2014 version on my computer. Can someone give me a hint on how I can fix this?
