ScurtY Crack

scurtY is a short and precise programming language, enabling you to save time while developing your code script. The software contains functions that help you create small projects and test them immediately. Cameron Diaz is promoting her new film "The Other Woman" and she's actually quite the blurrier pic of an actor than we'd like her to be. The actress recently met up with Elle.com to discuss the film, her current relationships with Ben Affleck and Jake Gyllenhaal and her body transformation for the film. We're not sure what Elle editors are smoking but they have to be doing it. We're pretty sure Cameron has a small head on her body and we're pretty sure she's never had that much makeup applied to her face before. So what's your take on Cameron Diaz? Give your man-o-meter a shake in the poll below. Eric
